This class is designed to assist you in trying to communicate in a sincere manner. The skills of communicating freely, persuasively and with confidence can be learned with continued practice. You will have the opportunity to look at the relationship between efficiency and effectiveness, style of communicating, relevance and significance. It is important to understand the power of words in every day communication with others.